Discrimination is not always obvious, and sometimes what seems to be discrimination may or may not meet the definition according to federal law. A determination of discrimination cannot be made until all the facts are carefully considered.

Who do you believe discriminated against you?
What happened to you? Where did the alleged act of discrimination occur? Why do you believe you are being discriminated against? When did the last act of discrimination occur? How were you discriminated against?

If you believe your rights have been violated you may write or call the City of Arlington Fair Housing officer. The City of Arlington serves as a referral service for fair housing complaints in the City of Arlington. You will be referred to the appropriate agency based on the nature of your complaint.
