If animals could talk, what would they say?

If animals could talk they would say: feed me please, take me to the park and play with me please. Do not eat me please, do not kill me please, don't hurt me please, let me inside it is freezing out here! Please don't give me away, I will miss you too much. Can I go to the store with you? Can I sleep inside with you tonight? Get me my shots on time please. I want to live longer instead of living less than I should. Teach me how to play soccer, please. Race you in a swimming contest. Cut my hair when it gets long. Change my water in my water tank tonight. Cut my nails every time they get long. Can I watch T.V. with you all night long? Cover me up with a blanket please. Can I take a bath with you so I won't be so dirty and lead mud in your house when it is so clean. Teach me how to do math problems so I can be as smart as you and I won't be as dumb as a dog. Teach me how to read so I will know how to read my name on my dog house. Can I have a bone please? Can I use your computer? Can I have a twin brother please?
