Arlington Tomorrow Foundation

annual report fy 2013

Arlington's largest charitable foundation in FY 2013 provided financial support to programs and projects offered by a variety of the community's social service agencies, cultural and recreational organizations.

The Arlington Tomorrow Foundation provides grants large and small to help create new charitable programs and to ensure vital efforts currently under way continue to thrive.

Since its inception in 2007, the foundation has enhanced the lives of Arlington's families, children and seniors, helped address the varying needs of our neighborhoods and city parks, sponsored programming in the city's libraries and underwritten exciting and significant performing and visual arts projects.

In FY 2013, the foundation bestowed nearly three dozen grants totaling more than $1.552 million.

A few highlights of this year's giving, including a grant of $225,000 awarded to First United Methodist Church to help fund urban design efforts to upgrade the church's façade, will complement Downtown Arlington design efforts and improve safety and accessibility in the Old Town district.

Mission Arlington added to their transportation program and bus fleet by purchasing three 25-passenger vans that the non-profit organization will use to transport local clients to school, work or medical appointments thanks to a $150,000 Arlington Tomorrow Foundation grant.

The foundation also provided $22,150 to help underwrite the cost of a new City program that delivers library and computer services to low-income Arlington neighborhoods.

annual report fy 2014

If you live in Arlington, you've likely been touched by a program funded by the Arlington Tomorrow Foundation. The Foundation provides grants to charitable organizations dedicated to serving Arlington residents or City of Arlington department projects. With a mission of contributing to a thriving Arlington, the Foundation has become one of the city's most vital and improve philanthropies.

More than 300 grants have been awarded since the foundation's inception in 2007, returning more than $11 million in contributions to the Arlington community.

In FY 2014, the foundation awarded dozens of grants totaling more than $1.169 million. Examples of the Foundation's largess include a gift to Grace Lutheran Church $100,000 for a revitalization and beautification project supplementing the renewal efforts around the University of Texas at Arlington and downtown area. As a result of the project, thousands of families within two miles of the church are expected to be served by recreation field improvements and to be offered a park setting in an area of the city where no such opportunity previously existed.

The Animal Services department benefitted from a $78,000 grant that provided new outdoor shade structures, dog park turf, a dedicated pet assessment area and a photo studio to promote adoptions of the homeless animals.

Thanks to a $130,000 grant, the City's Park & Recreation Department added much-needed lighting to the community's first ever skate park facility at Vandergriff Park.
